PRESIDENTS MESSAGE by Denise Howell

Howdi Everyone!

We're off to a great start with plans for 2014. The Board of Directors met and put together a budget, a donation amount and networked for meeting ideas. Among one of the things discussed was the proposed Auburn Bike Pump Track (no longer just proposed).

Our County Liaison, Debbie Murphy met with Phil Gardner, President of Western States Trails Foundation and suggested a walk around for this trail issue for which he feels comfortable with. Debbie will be keeping us updated on her meetings with the ARD regarding the Auburn Overlook Staging Area, Pump Park and other relevant trail issues.

We had a good turn out for the Membership meeting with several suggestions for meetings and maybe even some fun play and trail events at our Arena. Speaking of which has been used quite a bit in this great weather we're having. I've seen several riders at a time when I've been out there including some little ones developing an interest in the equestrian sport. The arena is for everyone so please share politely.

There is no rain. We can't do much about it. Make the best of it and get out and Ride, Ride, Ride.

Tally Whoa! Denise Howell & Beethoven

TRAYLOR RANCH NATURE RESERVE

On September 28 we completed what will be our last workday of the year. Only a few trails needed mowing and there was limited amounts of blackberry growth. There were some trails requiring gopher hole filling. Wes handled some tree trimming during the week and neighbor Dale Sloss did some berry pruning also.

A big welcome to Vicki Miles, a new member and she brought along her grandson Markel. Thank you for the help. It is very much appreciated.
The other team members this month included Clelia Jocoy, Jennifer Wright, Mary Westfall, Maureen Henderson, and Dave Faoro.

Next week Linda and Jerry Potter will be putting some final touches on the Del Mar side.

With such mild weather, this is a great time to be using TRNR. Come on out and enjoy!

I would like to thank all the volunteers who have contributed this year to helping keep Traylor Ranch the special place that it is.

If at anytime you are using Traylor Ranch and you see something which needs to be addressed, please reach out to me.

Minutes

Loomis Basin Horseman's Association Minutes January 15, 2014
Round Table Pizza Loomis, CA

The meeting was called to order at 7:00PM by President Denise Howell

A special Board meeting was attended January 13, 2014 by nine members. The budget was discussed along with protocol for future donations. It was decided that Debbie Murphy will assume the role of Trail representative.

Donna Kelly gave a treasurers report. (see attached)

Denise gave a brief overview of LBHA donations over the past year.

Debbie Murphy gave an update on the Auburn Bike Pump Park. She had attended a recent meeting where liability issues and equestrian safety concerns were addressed. The major concern is the close proximity of the proposed park to the equestrian trails. LBHA wishes to support the Auburn Recreation District in this development and are willing to give their input in making it a safe facility for all participants.

Mark Pecotich, a representative from Sierra Buttes Trail Stewardship, gave an overall presentation of the goals of their group. He stressed the need for all of the land use groups to give input and educate others in the safe and polite use of the facilities. He is organizing a meeting February 8, 2014 for all involved groups to offer input with their concerns. He can be reached at (916) 716-8529.

Denise next asked for input from members regarding ideas for future LBHA events and meetings. Some suggestions:

Speaker Nina Clark from Horses honor (530) 305-9678

LBHA members purchase a load of hay from a grower to sell to members

Create Trail Clinics using a form of participation points that can be used for prizes

Play days with basic Horsemanship classes

Cow Clinics

Western Dressage Demonstration

Meeting adjourned at 7:18 PM

Nancy Steuck, Secretary

MINUTES OF THE BOARD MEETING

January 13, 2014

President Denise Howell called the meeting to order at 6:10 p.m. Attending the meeting were Donna Kelly, Janis Rau, Dave Faoro, Bob Sydnor, Kathy Drombowski, Debbie Murphy, and Maureen Henderson. Secretary Nancy Steuck was unable to attend and Maureen Henderson offered to take minutes.

The main focus of this meeting was to prepare a budget for the upcoming year. In preparation, Treasurer, Donna Kelly, provided all board members with the following documents:

A cash flow comparison for the past three years
A financial breakdown of how much money the club has and how the money is invested
A list of donations made for the period 10/02/06 thru 12/31/13

The members reviewed and discussed the cash flow comparison in detail to determine what expenses required a vote prior to money being spent and what expenses are considered to be standard operating expenses, not requiring a vote by the Board. It was determined that the only outgoing expenses requiring a vote by the Board are donations and Horse Expo.

Discussion was held concerning insurance and whether or not to retain Cooks Porta Potty. By a majority vote of the Board, it was decided that LBHA will continue to utilize Cooks Porta Potty and will continue with Kelly Miller as our liability insurance agent.

Further discussion was held concerning the "property replacement fund" which is capped at $1,500.00. This fund is part of the club's savings account. It also requires a 2/3 vote of the Board to spend money from this fund.

Maureen made a motion that the club budget the amount of $2,500 as an annual amount to be set aside for donations. The motion was seconded and passed.

Janis made a motion that the club pass on Horse Expo this year. The motion was seconded and passed.

Discussion was held concerning emergency services at our annual horse show. With a majority vote, the Board made the decision that in the event of an emergency, a Board Member will contact 911 to request ambulance service. Under no circumstances will the ambulance request be withdrawn. Once the ambulance personnel arrives, they will make the determination as to whether or not the individual needs to be transported to the nearest health care facility for further evaluation. This will cover the club for liability and is in accordance with our insurance guidelines.

Discussion was held regarding speakers and events for the upcoming year. Debbie will ask trainer Kathryn Roberts to speak to our membership and also ask if she is interested in doing a clinic for the members. We will also approach Loomis Basin Equine Clinic and Dave Faoro agreed to coordinate our annual Traylor Ranch meeting, probably in June.

Debbie reported on the Auburn Pump Track. Two locations were selected and on 12/19/13, the ARD Board voted on locating the track at the Maidu Drive location. Debbie is working with ARD (Auburn Area Recreation and Park District) on the layout, trying to give the equestrians and bicyclists a large buffer zone as a safety precaution. Everything is currently in the planning stages and she feels we will be better off in the long run working with them in developing this site.

Debbie further motioned that LBHA be more involved in educating our community in the use of multi-purpose trails. This motion was seconded and unanimously passed.

A motion to adjourn was made and seconded. The meeting adjourned at 8:25 pm.

Real Cost Mare Breeding

By: Rachel Kosmal McCart, Equine Legal Solutions

For many horse owners, the arrival of spring means brand new foals and the start of breeding season. Perhaps you've found the perfect stallion to cross on your mare – he's gorgeous, he has an amazing pedigree and he's a world champion. Not only that, he's quiet and kind. The stud fee seems reasonable, and you have visions of making a little money by selling the foal. But beware – your breeding will likely cost much more than just the stud fee. As little as 20 years ago, most breeding operations used live cover. With live cover, the breeding process was relatively simple. Mare owners sent their mares to the stallion's farm, where they stayed until they were either pregnant or the breeding season was over, whichever came first. Typically, mare owners bred to a local stallion, or at least one within relatively easy driving distance from home. The mare owner expected to pay a booking fee, the stud fee, boarding costs and some veterinary expenses.

Today, the widespread use of artificial insemination (AI) has changed the breeding process forever. At first glance, AI might appear to be a huge convenience and money-saver, as it is often saves the cost of boarding the mare at the stallion's farm. However, there are numerous additional costs associated with AI, and those costs can take mare owners by surprise.

Set forth below are common costs reflected in breeding contracts. The price ranges are derived from Equine Legal Solutions' experiences in drafting contracts for stallion owners, and your costs may differ significantly. The requirements of each breeding contract vary, so be sure to read your contract carefully prior to signing it. As a mare owner, you will also incur costs not necessarily reflected in the breeding contract, such as the cost of delivering various notices to the stallion owner via overnight delivery.

Cont'd Pg 8

Stud Fee or Breeding Fee This one-time fee is the base amount that you will pay for the stallion's services. Some breeding contracts require payment of the entire fee prior to insemination; others require partial payment in advance with the balance due when the mare's pregnancy is confirmed. Stud fees vary from a few hundred dollars to thousands of dollars. Stallion owners trying to promote new stallions may even waive the stud fee for approved mares; however, that does not mean that your breeding will be free of charge, as you will likely incur other fees.

Booking Fee This fee is charged to reserve a place for your mare in the stallion's upcoming breeding season schedule. It is typically non-refundable and due at the time you enter into the breeding contract. The cost typically ranges from $100 to $800. The booking fee may or may not be part of the breeding fee, so read your contract carefully.

Semen Shipping Deposits and Fees Containers used for shipping semen are costly, specialized equipment and thus most stallion owners require a deposit from the mare owner before they will ship semen. Typically, this charge ranges from $50 to $250 and is refundable if the mare owner returns the container promptly and in good condition. Contracts may specify a certain number of days within which the container must be returned for a refund, and some stallion owners may charge a fee of as much as $25 per day for each day past the return date (and this fee is often in addition to forfeiting the deposit). Be sure to send the container back to the stallion owner via Federal Express or another method that provides proof of delivery, and do not rely upon your veterinarian to perform this service for you, as you will be solely responsible if the container is not returned on time. Some stallion owners may permit the use of one-time disposable containers, which the mare owner must purchase, and these typically cost around $50 each.

Collection Fees The stallion owner typically charges the mare owner a non-refundable collection fee each time that semen is shipped to the mare owner. Sometimes, the first collection is included in the breeding fee – review your contract for details. The cost generally ranges from $75 to $250 per collection. Some stallion owners charge an additional surcharge of as much as $50 if they receive less than 24 hours notice for a collection.

Shipping Fees In addition to collection fees and container deposits, mare owners must pay nonrefundable shipping fees to have the semen sent via overnight delivery. These costs typically range from $75 to $200 per shipment, depending upon the destination and shipping method.

Handling Fees In addition to the collection fee, some stallion owners charge mare owners a nonrefundable handling fee per collection, which typically ranges from $75 to $150.

In-Season Vet Check Many breeding contracts require a licensed veterinarian or approved equine reproductive technician to verify that the mare is in season and order the semen from the stallion owner. The mare owner must pay for these costs each time the mare is examined.

Insemination Costs Breeding contracts typically require that insemination be performed by a licensed veterinarian or approved equine reproductive technician. The mare owner must pay for these services each time the mare is inseminated.

Pre-pregnancy Vet Check Some breeding contracts require the mare owner to obtain a pre-breeding vet check with a negative uterine culture to verify that the mare is breeding sound, particularly for barren mares, maiden mares and mares with a history of reproductive issues. As the mare owner, you are responsible for paying for this service.

Initial Pregnancy Vet Checks As a condition of the live foal guarantee, most breeding contracts require confirmation from a veterinarian that your mare is in foal approximately two to three weeks after the insemination. The mare owner is responsible for paying for this service after each insemination attempt.

No-Pregnancy Vet Check If your mare does not conceive after two inseminations, the breeding contract may require you to obtain another veterinary certificate that the mare is breeding sound. As the mare owner, you are responsible for the costs of this service.
Second Pregnancy Vet Check As a condition of the live foal guarantee, most breeding contracts also require an additional pregnancy check about 45 days after insemination. The mare owner is also responsible for paying for this service.

For more information about costs associated with breeding your mare, consult with your veterinarian and knowledgeable friends. Be sure to read the stallion owner's contracts thoroughly and make sure that you understand the terms before you sign on the dotted line.
